

The Monolith

Geometric Square Sculpture

Thank you for bringing The Monolith home. A good piece lasts for years when it gets a little regular attention, and none of it takes much effort. This guide covers what I would do to keep yours looking the way it did on day one.

EVERYDAY CARE

- Dust weekly with a soft, dry cloth.
- Blot spills right away rather than wiping, so liquid does not spread into the stone.
- Keep it away from coffee, wine, oils, and anything acidic.
- Use felt pads underneath, since marble can scratch wood.

CLEANING, STEP BY STEP

- 1 Dust with a soft, dry cloth.
- 2 Wipe with a cloth dampened in lukewarm water and wrung out well.
- 3 For marks, add the smallest drop of pH neutral, stone-safe soap to the damp cloth and wipe gently.
- 4 Wipe once more with a cloth dampened in plain water, then dry right away with a soft towel.

PLEASE AVOID

- Vinegar, lemon, citrus cleaners, and bathroom cleaners. Acids etch marble and leave dull marks
- Bleach and ammonia
- Abrasive powders and scrubbing pads
- Wet glasses or plant pots resting on or beside it

PLACEMENT AND HANDLING

- Solid marble is dense, so lift with both hands.
- Take care with the corners, which can chip if the piece is dropped.
- Set it on a stable, level surface with felt pads under it.

GOOD TO KNOW

This is natural stone, so veining, small marks, and slight shifts in color are part of the material. No two pieces look exactly alike. If a stain does set, a stone care professional is a better call than a strong cleaner.

LARES · HOME

In ancient Rome, the Lares were the guardians of the household. We took the name because a home should feel looked after, and so should the things in it.
